Can I Work and Keep My Social Security Disability Benefits?

What are Work Incentives?

Social Security has safety nets in place, called Work Incentives, that allow you to keep some or all of your benefits while you try work.

- Work Incentives are programs and rules that help beneficiaries enter, re-enter, or continue employment by protecting their eligibility for benefit payments and/or health care coverage until they can replace their SSDI or SSI benefit payments with earnings from employment or self-employment, according to Social Security's standards.
- Whether you're looking for a job for the first time or returning to work after an injury or illness, Work Incentives can help you through the transition to work and toward financial independence.

What Is the Trial Work Period?

- The Trial Work Period (TWP) is one of the many Work Incentives available to people who receive SSDI.
- If you receive SSDI, your TWP allows you to test your ability to work for at least 9 months.
- During your TWP, you'll receive full SSDI benefits, no matter how much you earn – as long as you report your work activity and continue to meet Social Security's rules for disability.

How Is the Trial Work Period Calculated?

- The TWP continues until you accumulate nine TWP service months (not necessarily consecutive) within a rolling 60-month period.
- Social Security uses the amount you have earned in a month before subtracting taxes, to decide if a month counts toward your TWP. In 2025, if you earn $1,160 or more, or work more than 80 hours in self-employment in a month, you're considered to have worked a TWP "service month," which is counted toward your TWP.

How Can You Get More Information?

Take a look at our Trial Work Period Fact Sheet to learn more about the Trial Work Period and about another Work Incentive that's available when you complete your Trial Work Period, called the Extended Period of Eligibility.

What Is a Plan to Achieve Self-Support?

A Plan to Achieve Self-Support (PASS) is a Work Incentive for SSI recipients. It is a written plan of action for pursuing a specific work-related goal.

- A PASS describes the steps you will take and the items and services you will need to reach your work goal.
- When you have an approved PASS, Social Security does not count the money you set aside to help you reach your work goal when determining your SSI payment amount.

Who is Eligible for PASS?

- If you receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) or can become eligible to receive SSI, you can be eligible for a PASS.
  - If you receive SSDI, you may become eligible for a PASS if you have a work goal that would allow you to earn enough income that you no longer qualify for SSDI.
  - You would need to meet all other qualifications for a PASS and set aside enough of your SSDI payment that you could become eligible for SSI.

Can I Work and Keep My Medicare or Medicaid?

How Will Work Affect My Medicaid or Medicare Benefits?

If you receive SSDI benefits or SSI payments of any amount, you can keep your Medicaid or Medicare.

- If your benefit payments stop due to earnings from work (including self-employment), in many cases, you may be able to keep Medicaid or Medicare indefinitely by using:
  - Work Incentives
  - Buy-in Programs (available in many states)

- ✓ Medicaid Buy-in Programs

MEDICARE

- ✓ Extended Period of Medicare Coverage
- ✓ Medicare for People with Disabilities Who Work

Medicaid While Working or 1619(b)

If you receive SSI, you may qualify for continued Medicaid coverage when your payments stop due to earnings if you:

- Have been eligible for an SSI payment for at least 1 month
- Continue to meet Social Security's definition of disability
- Still meet all other non-disability SSI requirements
- Need Medicaid benefits to continue to work
- Have gross earnings that are below your state's threshold of eligibility

(see updated state threshold amounts at: ssa.gov/disabilityresearch/wi/1619b.htm)

Medicaid Buy-In Program

Many states allow you to purchase Medicaid under a Buy-in Program. You may qualify if you meet the definition of "disabled" under the Social Security Act.

- Each state's program is different, but most require that you have some earnings from work. Some states allow you to have significant earnings from work or self-employment and greater savings than most Medicaid programs allow.
- Under certain circumstances, people who receive SSDI benefits may be eligible for Medicaid Buy-in Programs.
- You should check with your local Medicaid agency to find out what is available in your state.

Extended Period of Medicare Coverage

Most SSDI beneficiaries whose benefit payments stop due to work will continue to receive, after their Trial Work Period, at least 93 consecutive months of:

- Hospital Insurance (Part A)
- Supplemental Medical Insurance (Part B), if enrolled
- Prescription Drug Coverage (Part D), if enrolled

Medicare for People with Disabilities Who Work

After premium-free Medicare coverage ends due to work, you can buy continued Medicare coverage, as long as you remain medically disabled.

You are eligible to buy Medicare coverage if:

- You are not yet age 65, and
- You continue to have a disabling impairment, and
- Your Medicare stopped due to earnings from work

Q&A

Who Can Help You
Achieve Your Work Goals?

Achieving Your Work Goals with Ticket to Work

As you think about returning to work and possibly changing jobs or careers you may have questions and need support.

- Connecting with a Ticket Program service provider can help you develop achievable goals and establish steps to find and maintain employment in your new career.
- Ticket Program service providers can help you identify the type of job or career you might enjoy and any transferable skills you may have.

Ticket Program Service Providers

Through the Ticket Program, You'll Have Access to a Variety of Ticket Program Service Providers, Including:

Employment
Networks
(EN)

State Vocational Rehabilitation
(VR) Agencies

Employment Network (EN)

An EN is a private or public organization that has an agreement with Social Security to provide free employment support services to people who are eligible for the Ticket Program.

Many state public workforce systems, such as American Job Centers, are Workforce ENs.

How Can Working With an EN Help You?

Services and supports are designed to help you on the path to financial independence through work and may include helping you to:

- Identify your work goals
- Write and review your resume
- Prepare for interviews
- Request reasonable accommodations
- Receive benefits counseling

State Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) Agency

A State VR agency provides a wide variety of services to help people with disabilities return to work, enter new lines of work or enter the workforce for the first time. A State VR agency may offer benefits counseling and may also be able to help you with:

- Vocational rehabilitation
- Training and education

Some states have separate VR agencies that serve individuals who are blind or visually impaired.

How Can Working With a VR Help You?

VR agencies:

- Usually work with individuals who need more significant services.
- In some states, this includes intensive training, education, and rehabilitation.
- They may also provide career counseling and job placement assistance as well as counseling about how earnings from work may affect Social Security disability benefits.

How Do You Find a Service Provider?

For a list of service providers, call the Ticket to Work Help Line at 1-866-968-7842 or 1-866-833-2967 (TTY), Monday - Friday, 8 am - 8 pm ET

To find a service provider online, visit the Find Help page. Search by:

- ✓ ZIP code
- ✓ Services offered
- ✓ Disability type
- ✓ Languages spoken
- ✓ Provider type

(EN, Workforce EN, VR or PABSS)
